

Expanded Table of Contents

Executive Summary: New Health Insurance Solutions for Individuals, Families, Self-Employed, and Businesses

Preface

Acknowledgments

Part I

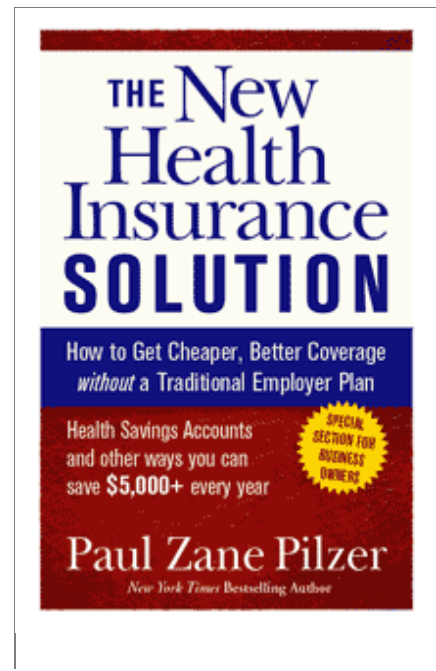

How to Better Protect Your Family While Saving $5,000+ Each Year: Savvy and Affordable New Health Insurance Strategies

Chapter 1: You Are One Serious Illness Away From Bankruptcy: The Huge Gaps in Your Employer's Health Insurance Plan

- What Would Happen If You Became Ill and Could Not Work
- The Gaps in Your Coverage When You Lose Your Job or Change Jobs
- What Happens When You Lose Your Health Insurance
- How to Avoid Losing Your Health Insurance When You Lose Your Job
- The Other Huge Gaps in Your Employer's Health Insurance Plan
- How Employer-Sponsored Health Insurance Works
- How We Got into This Mess
- The New Health Insurance Solution: How We Are Getting Out of This Mess
- Three Trends Behind the Changes

Chapter 2: Why Buying Your Own Health Insurance Is Better, Cheaper, and Safer Than Your Company Plan

- What is Individual/Family Health Insurance?
- Obtaining Individual/Family Health Insurance
- How Much Does Individual or Family Health Insurance Cost?
 - Employer-sponsored Health Insurance Is Double or Triple the Price of Individual/Family Insurance

- Why Haven't I Heard of Individual/Family Health Insurance?
- Individual/Family Health Insurance Policies in 2005-2006

Chapter 3: Your Legal Rights to Health Insurance When You Lose Your Job or Change Jobs: ERISA, COBRA, and HIPAA

- ERISA—Protects Your Pension by Not Your Health Benefits
- COBRA—A Temporary “Last Resort” If You Lose Your Employer-sponsored Health Insurance
- Summary of COBRA Rules and Eligibility
- The High Cost of COBRA
- COBRA Timeline—How to Get COBRA Coverage If You Need It
- The COBRA Loophole—How to Get Three and a Half Months of Free Health Insurance Protection from your Employer, Saving You $1,400 When You Change Jobs
 - The COBRA Loophole When You Leave Your Job
 - The Second COBRA Loophole—If You Are Already on COBRA
- HIPAA—Your Legal Protection When You Change Jobs or Get a New Job
- Summary of HIPAA Law and How It Affects You
- Your Rights as a HIPAA-Eligible Individual
- How to Become HIPAA-Eligible
- The HIPAA-Eligible Loophole

Chapter 4: How to Buy Your Own Low-Cost, High-Quality Health Insurance Policy

- The Two Major Components of Health Insurance
- How Medical Provider Networks Work—HMOs and PPOs
- Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs)—More Restrictions, Lower Cost
 - Preferred Provider Organizations (PPOs)—Fewer Restrictions, Higher Cost
 - Indemnity Plans, EPOs, and POS Plans
- Choosing between a PPO or HMO
 - How to Choose a Medical Provider Network When Buying Health Insurance
 - Beware—Many Health Benefits Products Are Not “Health Insurance”
 - Medical Discount Cards with No Insurance
 - Association Plans with Limited Financial Protection

- Financial Protection—What to Look for in a Health Insurance Policy
 - Doctor Visit Co-pay or Discount
 - Prescription Co-pay or Discount
 - Annual Deductible
 - Out-of-Pocket Annual Maximum (OOP Max = Coinsurance + Deductible)
 - Lifetime Maximum Coverage
 - Premium
 - HSA-Qualified
 - Other Considerations
- Comparing Different Health Insurance Policies
 - Estimating Your Future Healthcare Spending
 - Comparing Policy Features
- Submitting Your Application—Be Careful!
 - What Health Insurance Companies Look For in Your Application
 - Missing or Inaccurate Information on Your Application Could Cause Your Policy to Be Canceled When You Need It Most
 - How Underwriters Verify the Information on Your Application
 - The Medical Information Bureau
 - Telephone Verification Calls
 - Requests for More Information
- After You Submit Your Application
 - Application Approved as Submitted
 - Application Approved with Uprating
 - How I Negotiated a Better Deal with My Insurance Company
 - Application Approved with an Exclusionary Rider
 - Application Rejected
- Licensed Independent Health Insurance Agents: Whether to Use One and How to Choose One

Chapter 5: The Best Options for Employees with a Good Company Plan: High Deductibles, Disability, Cafeteria Plans, FSAs, and HRAs

- The Crisis in Employer-Sponsored Health Insurance
- Should You Get Your Own Individual/Family Health Insurance Policy?
- Should You Keep Your Company Plan for Yourself but Get Your Spouse and Children Their Own Individual/Family Plan?
- How to Buy Your Own Individual/Family Policy—Tax-Free
- Should You Choose a High-Deductible Insurance Plan?
- Long-Term Disability Insurance—More Important than Life Insurance

- How Your Employer's "Cafeteria Plan" (Section 125 Plan) Works
- Flexible Savings Accounts (FSAs)
- Health Reimbursement Arrangements (HRAs): A Great New Way for Employers to Fund Employee Health Benefits

Chapter 6: Health Savings Accounts: Why You Should Fully Fund Your HSA Before Putting Even $1 in Your IRA or 401(k)... and How to Build a +$500,000 HSA Nest Egg

- HSAs Versus IRAs and 401(k)s
- Why HSAs Are So Important
- The HSA Safety Net: How an HSA Can Help You Between Jobs
- HSA-Qualified High-Deductible Health Insurance
 - Annual Deductible Requirements and OOP Maximums
 - Checkups and Preventative Care May Be Fully Covered Regardless of Your Deductible
 - Combining HSAs with Your Employer's Section 125 (Cafeteria Plan) FSA or HRA
- Transition Relief Rules
- Managing Your Health Savings Account
 - Choosing a Depository Institution for Your HSA
- Making Contributions to Your HSA
- Making Withdrawals from Your HSA
- HSA-Qualified Medical Expenses
 - How to Spend All Your HSA Money Tax-Free after Retirement
- The Future of HSAs

Chapter 7: What to Do If You or a Family Member Have a Major Health Problem

- Finding a Job with Good Health Insurance Benefits
- How to Become a "Friend of the Governor": State-Guaranteed Subsidized Insurance for Those Who Are Not HIPAA-Eligible
- What Is a State Risk Pool?
- Eligibility
 - Cost
- Benefits
- Preexisting Conditions
- The Five Remaining States with Only State-Guaranteed Coverage Instead of a Free Health Insurance Market
- Other Substitutes or Equivalents to State Risk Pools

- State-Guaranteed Health Insurance for HIPAA-Eligible Individuals
 - How States Guarantee Coverage to Their HIPAA-Eligible Individuals
- Medicaid and Other Income-Based Programs
 - Medicaid
 - Other Income-Based Programs
- Becoming Eligible for Someone Else's Health Insurance or Medicaid
- Purchase a Medical Discount Card or Join a PPO

Chapter 8: How to Get Affordable Medical Care When You Are Over 55: Early Retirement, Medicare, and Long-Term Care

- Health Insurance During Early Retirement—Ages 55 to 65
 - Why Employers Are Cutting or Canceling Their Retiree Health Insurance Benefits
 - The Government Retiree Healthcare Crisis for Taxpayers: How You Are Paying for the Health Insurance Deal of the Century
 - Health Insurance Solutions for Early Retirees—Ages 55 to 64
- Negotiating with Your Employer for Early Retirement Health Insurance Expenses
- Medicare—Federally Subsidized Health Insurance for Seniors
 - Medicare Part A, Hospital Insurance: (Hospitals, Skilled Nursing Facilities)
 - Medicare Part B, Doctor Visit Insurance: (Doctors, Outpatient Services)
 - Part C, Medicare Advantage: The Alternative to Medicare Parts A and B and Supplemental Coverage
 - Medigap—Supplemental Insurance for the Gaps in Medicare Parts A (Hospital Insurance) and B (Doctor Visit Insurance)
 - Medicare Part D, Prescription Drug Insurance: A Great Deal for Everyone on Medicare
- Long-Term-Care, Assisted Living, and Nursing Home Insurance
 - Medicaid-Funded Long-Term Care—Not Desirable
- Medicaid-Funded Long-Term Care—Not Desirable
 - How You Can Finance Your Long-Term Care
- The Long-Term Care Insurance Market
 - Choose “HIPAA-Qualified” Long-Term Care Insurance

Chapter 9: How to Save 10 to 75 Percent on Your Prescription Drugs

- Get a Drug Discount Card and Save 10 to 25 Percent

- How to Choose a Drug Discount Card
- Expiring Medicare Drug Discount Cards for Senior Citizens
- Your Insurance Company's Drug Plan Could Save You Thousands
- Shop Overseas Pharmacies
- Ask for Generic Drugs
- Use a Different Drug That Has Similar Effects
- Other Ways to Save

Chapter 10: How to be a Smart Healthcare Shopper, Stay Healthy, and Keep the Savings

- Stop Taking “Maintenance Drugs” That Treat Symptoms, Not Causes
- Change Your Lifestyle (Diet and Exercise) to Dramatically Cut Your Lifetime Healthcare Expenses—Before It's Too Late
 - Why Americans Spend So Much on Healthcare
- The Effect of Diet and Exercise on Your Prescription Drugs
- Shift from Sickness Care to Wellness Care
 - Joining the Wellness Revolution
- Alternative Medical Providers
- Speak to Your Doctor about Spending Your Money as if It Were His or Her Own Money
 - Prescriptions
- Medical Tests
- Surgery

Part II

How Businesses Can Fix Their Health Insurance Nightmare and Still Hire Great Employees

Chapter 11: How Employers Can Save 50 Percent on Health Insurance by Giving Employees Tax-Free Dollars to Buy Their Own: Defined Contribution Health Benefits

- Traditional Defined Benefit Health Insurance versus New Defined Contribution Health Insurance
 - Everyone Benefits, but Healthy and Younger Employees Benefit the Most
- Unhealthy Employees Also Save Money and Get Safer Coverage
 - Your Company Benefits As Much As Your Employees Do

- How Much Will Your Organization Save with a Defined Contribution Plan?
 - Estimate the Cost of a New Defined Contribution Program
- Designing Your Defined Contribution Health Benefits Plan
 - Dividing the Savings between Employer and Employees
- Special-Purpose HRA Program(s) for Singles, Families, and Unhealthy Individuals
- Implementing Your Defined Contribution Health Benefits Plan
- Starting with a Defined Contribution Plan for Independent Contractors or Another Class of Employees
- Defined Contribution as an Optional Choice for Employees
- Perform a Census of Your Employees (or a Class of Employees) When You Are Ready to Cancel Their Group Defined Benefits Plan
- Terminating Your Group Plan and Making (Almost) Everybody HIPAA-Eligible for State-Guaranteed Insurance
- Other Considerations

Chapter 12: HSA Plans for Employers: Why Every Employer Should Encourage Tax-Free Employee Contributions to HSAs

- Three HSA Contribution Options Every Employer Should Consider: 0, 50, and 100 Percent
 - Option 1: 0 Percent Employer Contribution Plan
 - Option 2: 50 Percent Employer Matching Contribution Plan
 - Option 3: 100 Percent Employer Contribution Plan
- HSA Plans for Employers Who Offer Health Insurance
 - HSAs for Employers with Defined Contribution Health Insurance Plans
- HSA Options for Employers with Defined Benefit (Traditional Employer-Sponsored) Group Health Insurance
- The End of Health Insurance Risk for Large Employers
- How to Make Sure Your HSA Plan Is Enthusiastically Adopted by Your Employees

Chapter 13: HRAs for Employers: How to Use HRAs to Save $2,000 to $6,000 per Employee Each Year While Getting Your Employees Better Health Insurance

- How Health Reimbursement Arrangements (HRAs) Work
 - Basic Rules and Uses for HRAs Today

- A Simple, Money-Saving Health Insurance Solution for Most Employers Today
- New-Employee HRAs—Short-Term Health Insurance Coverage for New Hires (“Waiting Period Coverage”)
 - Short-Term Health Insurance Policies (Waiting Period Coverage)
- Former-Employee HRAs – COBRA Alternatives (CAP) and Early Retiree Programs
 - COBRA Alternative Program
 - Early Retiree HRA
- High-Deductible HRAs— A Way to Encourage Your Employees to Adopt High-Deductible Insurance
 - Why Don't All Employees Choose High-Deductible Plans?
- How High-Deductible HRAs Save Employers Money
- Coordinating High-Deductible (and other) HRAs with Health Savings Accounts
- Supplemental HRAs for Dental, Vision, and Other Items—Filling the Gaps in Group and Individual/Family Health Insurance
- Wellness HRAs—Programs to Improve Health and Productivity

Epilogue: The Future of Affordable Health Insurance in America—Who Wins and Who Loses?

- Employer-Sponsored Group Health Insurance—The Old Way
- Individual/Family Health Insurance—The New Way
- The Complete Reform of U.S. Healthcare
- Who Wins and Who Loses with The New Health Insurance Solution?
 - Unhealthy People Lose $ and Healthy People Gain $ with HSAs
 - Healthy and Especially Unhealthy Individuals Gain Peace of Mind
 - Some State Governments Lose Short Term, but All Win Long Term
 - The U.S. Economy and U.S. Consumers Benefit the Most
- What Should Be Done Now to Improve Health Insurance?
 - Allow Health Insurance to Be Sold Across State Lines
 - Make All Health Insurance Premiums Tax Deductible
- Make All Healthcare Providers Disclose Prices
- Allow International Competition for Pharmaceuticals
- Protect Bankrupt Families from 200-500 Percent Medical Bills
- End Federal Lifetime Health Benefits for Congressmen, Senators, and Government Officials

Appendix A: State-by-State Guide to Individual/Family Health Insurance Costs

Appendix B: How Americans Get Health Insurance Today...and What about the 45 Million Uninsured?

Notes

Index

About the Author